Thread: Hackuman NPCs \(RIP FBI The Rat, DYNE IS #1, THANKS FOR THE UPGRADE! \)

Howdy nerds,

I recently had an interesting encounter with the Hackuman system on our beloved HackForums. Today, I received my first "egg," which turned out to be a rat. It was quite a surprise, and I must say that the integration of the Hackuman system into the site has made me even more active and engaged as a member.

I've been pondering over some ideas to make the game even more enjoyable and dynamic, and I wanted to share them with you. What if we introduced non-player characters (NPCs) into the Hackuman system? These NPCs would only attack if provoked, making the gameplay more exciting for all levels of participants.

To make things more enticing, these NPCs could offer rewards such as byte drops, healing potions, or even food with health benefits. Perhaps, when an NPC is defeated, the person who lands the final blow could be the one to claim the loot. This would add an extra layer of competition and encourage more active participation.

Of course, implementing such a feature might require an inventory system to manage the acquired items. Some might argue that this could be overwhelming or excessive, but it's worth considering the potential benefits and enjoyment it could bring to our gaming experience.

I'm curious to hear your thoughts on this idea. Do you think introducing NPCs, loot drops, and an inventory system would enhance the Hackuman feature on our beloved HackForums? Let's discuss and see if we can collectively shape the future of our favorite hacking community.

Looking forward to hearing your opinions and suggestions!

Best regards,
Simtastic1

edit: I have horrible news people of HF.

fbi the rat is now dead.
fuck hackuman.

Honestly, i think this is a great idea. Turn HUM into more of a Pokémon esq game. Adding the "wilderness" etc. Maybe if there was a little battle field when fighting or attacking a HUM, a little forward animation when attacking, etc. A way to farm levels or other HUM items without relying on bytes or having to attack another HUM player.

Cool ideas. Congrats on your first egg & sorry on your first death, but don't give up on HUM. There's ways to play it & strats you can come up with to win.

IKR look this is what I don't understand.

1. Leveling: The only real way to level ur Hackuman is by attacking
2. so if you attack too much trying to kill another egg at ur level
you'll get wiped out instantly by the time you get to the next level bracket Imfao

Understandably.
One day I will seek revenge.

Just murdered a sapphire and golden egg because I cant list in the lotto.

EDIT: this post demanded an emerald victim.
BRO THAT MOTHERFUCKER IS THE GUY WHO TOOK MY EGG!!

HE HAS A DINOSAUR THATS EXTREMELY HIGH IN SHIELD, SO BY THE TIME YOU GET IT LOW, YOU'LL BE IN A LEVEL CAP TO GET INSTANTLY ONE SHOT BY HIS OTHER MONSTER

we might have to start a revolution. its the only way.

Lmfao i gotta play HUM religiously now..
im egg hunting..

I already told Demon that its up whenever I get the chance.

I'm just gonna sit and farm bytes then fuck him over with a item spam..

The revolution starts soon..
