Check task scheduler, it could be malware executing malicious code

Throw PC away.

Please give more details if you need assistance. "Cmd prompt boxes" can be anything.

Like I said in a previous reply it says some shit like "the system cannot find path" not fully what it displays but I see something like that

Hello,

Probably due to one of your startup program, can you check using "Run" Windows and typing "shell:startup" ?

Can you check in the task manager for any app that startup at the boot ?

Do you deal with malware or cracked software ? Did you run an AV scan ?
