Lets assume i get a pack with some valido videos and photos.
Lets Say i get videos where the girl actuslly says She s real.
Lets Say i spam several accounts for
Snapchat,telegram,kik,discord,[BRAND NAME REMOVED],lovooo,other dating apps.
How many guys will Ask for pics take under some conditions as verification?
World be Better an approach with fee bucks so lets Say, 5$ per person?
Lets suppose i get 1000 guys in a day.
How many are willing to buy a sandwich from me without thinking i am real?
The fact i see the ewhoring on the other side of the Coin.
There are free naked girls everywhere on the web i jeep asking myself: why would i ever pay for It?
I checked some promoting sexting sites and i can tell whos fake and Who doesnt.
Are people really this Low?
Even making 20 Sales per day wouldnt be back but i feel a premonition telling me no One Is gonna fall for it

As a man i cant see a way of fooling them.
'hey since u Say youre at home studying in pijamas can you take a selfie showing me you are a real woman with a hand raised?'
If i dont have that kind of pic of the same girl i offer the client Is burnt.
But lets Say i find some girls with a wide Array of pics, lets Say i make a Instagram,facebook,tiktok account and put in the bio, how many days i can Survive before running out of time? How stupid really Is the man on the other side.
In my mind i had the idea of buying sticky posts from adult sites, going Deep into the conversation with a straight streetwalker approach, something latino like 'hey amor, are you planning to do some business with me'.
'sure Just video call to prove me your identity'.
And its oveeer

Here's your problem - You're too worried about appearing "real" to them. Real women don't care if you think they're real or not. They play the numbers game. There are millions of men and they will keep trying to sell until they get one that will buy. Most ewhores think that they have to make each contact buy. That's not going to happen.

Your ideal customer is a horny man that needs something RIGHT NOW. That type of man is not worried about verification. He's looking to get off. The ones worried the most about verification are just bored and want to see how much of their $#!+ you're gonna take to get a sale. Don't worry about them. They're timewasters. You will never be able to do enough to verify for them.

Just approach every potential buyer like you would expect a woman to approach you. If you're unsure about that, go on Reddit or Twitter and let some of the real women try to sell to you. You'll see how they do it and then you can create a persona that works for you.
