Thread: Looking for a long-term mentor/partner

tropizz - June 22, 2023, 6:13 am

Hey everyone, hope y'all doing good

So ive been e-whoring (Kik/Snap method) and active here when I was a teenager + still underage, around 2016/17 to 2018, and this for sure is -imo- one of the best Internet communities out.

I remember that the people here (and not only in the e-whoring section nor things concerning money) were really human and always used to give useful tips. I remember about a serbian guy living in Italy who used to mentor me, another friend of him from Serbia used to give me tips aswell.

I am not only looking for an e-whoring mentor/partner, but also a big brother, let me explain further :

My childhood has been somehow special and hard to live because of my family (nothing harmful tho but psychologically affecting), which leaded me to stop school at 13. When I started going back into the real life (around 2018/19), I was socially awkward and naive as hell. I went through multiple steps, grew up, somehow caught up with the late I had but I still struggle for many things. The country I live in, and especially the city makes it harder for me to socialize (which is already a bit hard for someone that grew up normally and moved on).

Now im almost at the middle of my 20s, I still got few things to make up and also get some real self-confidence, which got hugely affected by my "Internet chronicles" since my 13. My "circle" on Snap, Insta (which I deleted today as I wanna start over), contacts (changing number soon) consists of 99% of people being less or more connected to a online video-game I started playing, and played constantly from 2013 to 2020, some were indirectly met IRL after consequences that came from it.

Anyway that was just a "small-talk" even tho its an TL:DR, im looking to hop back into e-whoring with a mentor/partner, which I am willing to split with (even 30/70), but not only : money is the secondary objective, im sure I can make it alone like I did but I need motivation, a lot of motivation.

The primary one is to help me changing my life, my way of thinking, my way of sociabilizing with people, talking about all these things that affected me since my childhood, those problems I had from my 19 to now, helping me getting back (or new) interests that I lost since my brain "grew up" and I stopped being naive etc, after discovering "life" : a big brother that I make few bucks with and that will help me finish my evolution from a teenager to a REAL MAN, capable of doing everything alone without the help of anyone, self-confident.

I dont wanna pay a "lifestyle coach" or go to the psychologist even if its free in my country or whatever, they're paid to listen to me and its inefficient. I want it to come from the heart, the will of helping, the passion.

I posted here because e-whoring was the most enjoyable money-making thing for me back in the days + most of the people here got a lot of SE skills that are helpful in my case + this is the most human, comprehensive, empathetic community ive been to, hope it didnt change since that 2018 year.

Thanks in advance guys, hope I will find anyone here willing to help me, and again sorry for the

idk how many bitches do this or if being female disqualifies me as a potential mentor but i feel you and if you wanna talk im here for you fs

jfromdabloc - July 26, 2023, 7:00 pm

Yooo, seems like we have a lot in common. I also missed out on schooling and spent many years online only, back in 2005-2010. I'm here if you'd like to connect!
