I guess this is what they're going to indict him for next. At least Trump gets to have his say. This is old video from around the time it happened. Already feels old fashioned.

I quite like Trump.

Mainstream media shits on good people.

And what is it you like about him? Anyway at least Trump does get to have his say in the video even if the host doesn't appear to like him.

I like how he in my opinion answers questions very brutally and honestly.

There's a lot of bad the media are pushing forward about him, but history says he done a lot of good for the people.
