Can't be serious all the time. Sometimes you just gotta have a little fun.

Realistically I don't 'love' giving out warnings at all. Granted there are a couple here and there where it's just long overdue and deserved.

Sometimes shit is just obnoxious.

Some members deserve them more than others. Others deserve a good post ban.

I tend to have less sympathy for the evaders and new members who show up strictly to spam and leech until they get banned.

hello hellooo

I cant go into what I did. but I had a great day. at work probably going to get a new possibility to grow.

Still looking to become rich online next to my job.

if anyone has any tips or ideas let me know.

I have my dreamjob currently. It has been my childhood dream and I managed to get to the level.

But now I have a new dream wich is getting enough money so my parents can quit working.

So right now I am between 2 dreamjobs and that is hard because I want to reach my second goal, but I am still working in my first goal.

Eventually, I'd say. Every group has tons that join for no reason. I'm about to clean my group up.
