Thread: My advice for new ewhorers

leahchessa10 - July 12, 2023, 7:40 am

Wanna start posting here.

I been ehworing for quite a long time and I'll give some tips that might help really new/noobs e whorers.

- Try to post everyday, even food pics, gym pics, normal life situations, you can get pics on Pinterest and just cut them or mirror them and post on your story, it will make you look more real, and the average girl post a lot on the daily so it gives you more credibility.

- Avoid people who you know won't pay.

Indians, teenagers, people insisting to get free stuff. Just save your time and block them before they report you for not giving anything for free.

- Play the long game

Get close to people texting you and try to get personal, if they trust you they are more likely to send a lot of money in the long run.

Just don't hope for 10$ and then dissapear

Thanks for advices and yea you must make your account as real as posible

I see daily people who try to trick me everyday but when i go to their profile i sense imediatly that the account its fake as they have only 2 or 3 posts
