Thread: telegram and phone numbers

push33n - July 13, 2023, 4:36 am

I want to use apps like telegram, signal, discord, etc to communicate with people, but I dont want to use my personal phone number (obvious reasons) and dont know how to get around it. any tips?

Use an SMS verification service - few examples below:

<https://autofications.com/>
<https://sms-activate.org/en>
<https://5sim.net/>

How long can you stay with that number with WhatsApp or Telegram after someone else takes it?

Well once it's been used, no one else can register for the same service with the same number... I think.

I purchased a number from Textnow for a bunch of my apps, it's like $5 a year or something and it works with everything, I don't have to worry about losing access to my number like you do with most of those websites.

I second this. I use 5sim myself, never tried on telegram but it should work fine.

5sim seems cool, but its prices are absurd for me :(

With signal definitely and most likely the other apps you spoke of you don't actually have to activate the Sim to use the number associated with that Sim.. just make sure the sim comes with the number on the packaging. Simply put the Sim into your phone don't activate it just go to the app input the number the verification will still come threw once verified take out Sim and put your Sim back in done easy as

Be aware of 5sim service conditions:

The created account was banned after a while

According to clause 9 of the website operation rules, we are not responsible for the ban of registered accounts, since ban is affected by many factors. Refund or numbers replacement are not stipulated in this case.

I would avoid this. You lose the security of your account once you do this.

Getting a burner phone is a far better option or another way of having control over the sim.

It's good to be paranoid in an adversarial world.

I'd personally recommend, quite cheap phone numbers for a lot of different apps/websites and etc <https://sms-man.com/>

Use virtual numbers for other apps and use apps like Session/Jabber to communicate.

I dont suggest using this site.

You have 2 ways.

1) Use google voice (you need 2 mails and virtual sms for regestration/just buy gv). After that use any android emulator for registration telegram account (nox/ldplayer/mamuplay). That's done!

2) Use only virtual sms for once.

Registration telegram account for any android emulator. (android emulators can scan QR code)
Just safe in emulator groups your device.

And if you want login to your telegram account, use this device.

That all :)

IPegFemboys - December 12, 2023, 9:21 pm

You can use a burner or one of those sites with numbers.
