Hi.

Not sure if this is the right place to post..

Do anyone sell or know of a service where you can pay someone to get explicit photos from a specific person by providing them with their social account name?

What you're asking for is for someone to use social engineering to get someone to send pictures of themselves, and depending on your target it might take a long time to develop the trust for them to do it. I would take a run at it but if you're expecting someone to do it for free its probably not going to happen.
