Good day HF!

First of all, this is not a sales pitch, nor will there be anything to sell.

Are you interested in making money online but failing?

The main reason why most people fail to make money online is simple: they run out of motivation or don't focus on one project, instead splitting their energy between too many projects at the same time.

I am now in the same position.

A couple of days ago, I thought: why not create a Discord server with highly motivated people? Everyone has their own expertise, and we can use the power of all of us to create something big.

It doesn't matter if it's an SEO, SMM, e-commerce, product creation, ads, crypto, etc. idea. To be successful, you always need someone to motivate you and provide a different perspective on the project, to get things started and rolling so you don't lose focus and get stuck in a loop.

The main idea of the Discord server is simple: there will be an inner circle where we discuss, build, and test new projects and ideas. Also, if we need a tool or software, we will do group buys.

What I can bring to the table:Developers

SEO services

SMM services

Graphic design

Money

Tools and software

German language/legal tools for German/Austria

What you should be able to offer:Highly motivated

Money, if it is required for paid testing, tools, software, etc.

Open to discussions

In order to get started, please answer the following questions. If I think you are a good fit, I will DM you the Discord link to join. The reason why I do this is simple: I don't want to waste our time.

Quote:What are your skills?

What are your pain points when it comes to making money online?

Do you have a budget in case we try paid ads, do group buys, etc.?

Thanks for reading!

See you on the other side.

Building my own business next month. I am a full-stack developer with a entrepreneur mindset. Always open for new projects and businesses.

Would love to be part of the circle!

I do indeed have a budget of at least a few thousands!

Hello!

Skills: Full stack development, Investor connections, 2 already highly profitable businesses, Crypto Expert, Person of Action, Japanese language translation, smart contract & web3 hacking skills. Deep learning LLM AI expert.

Pain points for me:

Time. I am always looking for ways to streamline my process or automate it in some way. Removing emotions from complex tasks is vital for me, as it allows me to do my work with little stress attached.

Budget: probably somewhere around 50k.

Dang! wasn't aware that the name exists here - sorry.

Edit: Changed the name, so there will be no confusion.
