What kind of proof do you seek to get? I haven't been active since 2 years almost, so I got a lot going on.

I don't make any promises just yet, but I do fancy a chat if you have time.

Methods with guaranteed profits of a certain amount, whether its public or private methods I'm willing to buy them. Preferably with a middle man we both trust that will hang on to the funds until the contract promise is complete.

Check out my Shopify Refferal Guide. 2 spots. I think it throws all the other stuff out the window that is on here?

Are you able to offer guaranteed earnings with a middle man?

Okay, but "guaranteed profits" is one of the worst things to say in a business.

Because if it's that black and white, I would be able to claim: "I would make guaranteed profits, even if I would be in a coma for 8 years. Even if the world bans valuta and innovates a new one (CBDC for example)".

That can't be said. So I keep myself from this attempt to deal with you. With or without a Middleman. Not worth it.

Many people claim they'd earn a certain amount with their guides, all I'm looking for is for someone to back up their claims.

Pretty much no one can guarantee profits because it depends not only on how hard you work, but how smart you work and whether you "get" the method.

If you want a guaranteed set of income, go find a job. Just speaking the truth.

I'm not looking for a job I'm interested in money making methods that are guaranteed to work

Been several years in this forum and also bought several "private methods", after spending several k's in those, the conclusion is: if they are selling the method it's because either too saturated or dead method. Cut the "I wanna help you to get rich bs" they are here to make money from you. The only good thing you can get from these methods is that they provide you useful info on what was working BEFORE. Maybe with some tweaks you can get it working too. But keep this in mind: working money making methods are never for sale. Also using MM, they will never agree because they know they are selling bs and put excuses as "if you don't work enough the method does not work". Same bs as 9-5 jobs. Stay safe brother

There are definitely methods that work pretty much 100% I have the method but it's well known I'm pretty much trying to expand my knowledge and not get scammed diablospartan - August 17, 2023, 1:49 am

Well thats the thing its you cannot be always sure that you will get a sure profit method

What may work for others it may not work for you etc

For example if you have some bad limiting beliefs about money in your mind then you can purchase the greatest method and it will not work for you

HOMODIN - August 17, 2023, 2:29 am

How much time are you willing and able to spend daily on a 'method' and have you got any special skills or things that you are really good at?

...and skills or things that you are good/bad at? -can't really expect you to make profit on something that you know nothing about, like lets say if I throw something related to coding at you and you know nothing about it, how could you make a profit on that...no can do...
