Hello everyone.

What are some of your personal favorite payment methods for customers to pay and how do you keep them as anonymous as possible?

Would love to hear your opinions and any tips you have!

I prefer crypto as it's the safest for a seller.

I don't know about "convincing", but <https://switchere.com> is great for paying in crypto.

That's all I accept. They don't like it they can go somewhere else.

I used PayPal in the past and they disputed charges against me, same with Stripe. People made a bunch of purchases with Stripe and then the cardholders reported them as fraudulent and I lost.

Isn't this only if you "scam" them. If you continue to deliver, do they still charge back?

I didn't scam anyone. Their orders were fulfilled.

Amazon Gift cards are a pretty decent way to go about this.

However be prepared to take a 20-30% cut when exchanging them.
