Is E Whoring a viable option in the long term?

Yes, depending on how you approach it. If you approach it as a game, it will treat you as a game. If you approach it as business, it will treat you as a business. It's really just sales.

And if we're all being honest, OnlyFans is now mostly ewhoring. A large percentage of the women on there are paying management companies to run their accounts while they supply the content. That's ewhoring. If you're not talking directly to the actual woman in those pics/vids, it's ewhoring.

Ewhoring in general, yes. But it depends on your specific pack and what you're doing. If you have idk 30 pics, it'll be hard to sustain in the long run because you'll constantly re-use old content, which guys will eventually realize.

If you don't want to partner with a real girl, at least get a paid one that has A LOT of content - censored pics, vids, voice notes, lingerie stuff, full nude, masturbation vids, etc.

It is literally a legitimate business today (OnlyFans), so yes, you can make incredibly money with this. However, if you have a girlfriend or a wife, make sure they are onboard with your business first :)
