Thread: Do You Have A Beard?

Blockonome - September 4, 2023, 5:51 am

I am wondering, how many people on HF has a permanent beard?

As I, who cannot grow a real proper beard, find myself shaving every week, it could be interesting to know how long it took for members to grow a proper beard that they actually maintain, rather than shaving.

If you dare, post some photos of your beard!

DashPHP - September 4, 2023, 1:20 pm

My facial hair grows just fine but tbh with you, i couldn't care less rn xD

I am usually clean shaven but rn i just run a machine over my face and leave it at that haha.

James Burnham - September 4, 2023, 1:49 pm

Can confirm this x2. I have a beard and I've let it grow out since March. Obviously maintaining it along the way.

Rin™ - September 5, 2023, 4:37 pm

I was lucky I started to have a full beard when I was 15. I try to keep short most of the time. I want to grow it out this winter but it's always a hassle.

Rahul007rhp - September 8, 2023, 3:07 am

I have a full but mild beard its very common here in my country to have a beard

iiFinance - September 8, 2023, 12:07 pm

I can grow a full beard within a week. My stubble is very heavy after a day or 2 of shaving. I've rocked a beard before (not too long) and a goatee but I always end up shaving it off. I think of myself as a pretty handsome dude and been told I look good either way but I still look young and would rather keep it that way as long as I can.

Alpha Geek - October 16, 2023, 4:33 am

I have a full beard, it only looks good when I moisturize it with oil and comb it out. Right now the baby is seemingly only interested in tugging on it, so I leave product out of it as to keep the baby from eating it. Heck I'm even half considering shaving it off because of the tugging, perhaps I won't though as it keeps him entertained.

Mac Miller - October 16, 2023, 4:34 am

I got a nice beard, Bitches love cleaning it, always askin "omg Mac can I clean your beard!!!"

Koyote - October 16, 2023, 4:39 am

I've had a beard for as long as I can remember to be honest, I started getting one in high school anyway. I keep it short but definitely look better with rather than without.

Night Storm - October 16, 2023, 7:23 am

I'd like to keep beards like Dumbledore, but,
my girlfriend would not like it.

Charlie Sheen - October 16, 2023, 7:33 am

I do, I never go anywhere without my beard. Bearding is a sport, that I take very seriously.

When 2 beards cross paths, the greater beard has the right of way.

V?rt - October 16, 2023, 7:44 am

I do. I've had a beard pretty much since I've been out of highschool. I did go 3 years without one due to my job, but I've had one for the past 3 years now. :)

Komodo - October 16, 2023, 7:47 am

Local Celeb - October 16, 2023, 8:02 am

Goes right down to my toes ?

iiFinance - October 16, 2023, 8:25 am

I can grow a full beard. I find myself shaving every 2/3 days. In a week I'll have a pretty thick beard coming in. 5 o clock shadow comes in the next day after shaving. Tbh pretty annoying to shave all the time.

Disease - October 16, 2023, 8:48 am

Is it purely because of the itchiness that you do not want to grow it? I am sure, if you persist (or buy some cream for the itching), that you can grow one.

Do you use aftershave ? It works as dis infectant and helps fight itchiness as well.

I don't really have a beard but I usually always have some facial hair. Shaving all of my face is uncomfortable so if I do it's usually at a nice length. I had grown my facial hair out wildly during covid to see what it would look like and for myself it wasn't really a good look.

DemonAsylum - April 1, 2024, 11:19 am

Technically yes for me I suppose, but I say it like that because it's not as if it's some magnificent and luscious long beard all of the time haha. I do let it get longer at times, but inevitably I end up trimming it down more than not. It starts to become bothersome at a point.

Jam1e - April 1, 2024, 11:26 am

I've never found the motivation to be clean shaven, so I'm always rocking a full beard

I've been like that sometimes and it's part of what contributes to some of the times I say fuck it and let it grow however long haha. Do you tame it at least? Assuming it's a pretty decent size beard? Personally I'd want to and do in such a case, but I guess some people don't mind or even like a crazy scruffy beard haha.

pms - April 1, 2024, 11:36 am

Mooooookie - April 1, 2024, 11:37 am

I do, but not much of one. I got some hair on my chin and a mustache. That's about it. That's all that ever grew in, and tbh.. in not mad about it! Shaving daily doesn't look like fun.

Pretty much me. Can grow one if I let it, but I'll normally keep it fairly trimmed down. Too long and it usually starts to bother me. Not trying to be itching it all of the time and get a rash or some shit.

You go like baby face? I assume that's what you mean by clean shaven. I don't go that far, but I'll trim it down pretty good sometimes. I feel like mine grows fairly quick so that's part of the reason why.
