(Sep 9, 2023 08:17 PM)NERO Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hey guys, As you know I've helped multiple people get tickets for various football teams and events over the last year.

Liverpool has implemented updates which just became far too time consuming for me to keep updating whilst i was otherwise occupied with family life.

Fortunately, I now have the ability to offer this to you guys once more.

I recognise that most people who land on this thread will most likely be people who have spent hours searching on google for a solution.

As such your most likely new here.

Let me give you some help before we get into the details:

What am i offering:

A tool which will basket tickets for you.

How much will it cost?

You pay per minute you run the tool, An hour on average costs around £15.

How do i message you?

If your unable to message me due to post count restrictions etc, Leave a post, Im active and usually check the forums once every hour, Ill message you.

How does it work?

You will first purchase your licence, Once you have your licence you will be sent a login, You will be invited to our members only discord server, You must login to the LFC website and visit the links we tell you to visit, When you open the extension you will be faced with multiple self-explanatory options, Click run, You will not need to provide us with your login information.

We will run our carting bot on our server for your account, When your account is assigned a ticket, You will be notified in discord and you will be given 20 minutes to complete the checkout.

Important information:

YOU ARE NOT GUARANTEED TICKETS.

When the bot is running, It will run for those who are authenticated with the server, The bot will continue to run for your account for the length of time you wish to run it for, You purchase the licence for the bot and you receive 30 minutes of credit for free.

Once your 30 minutes is up, You will have to purchase more time. 60 minutes costs £15.

There is varying price levels whilst running the bot.

If you are running the bot for a single ticket the base price is 25 pence per minute.

2 Tickets: 40p per minute

3 Tickets: 60p per minute

4 Tickets: 80p per minute

You must also understand that even though we are running your account multiple times a second, When a ticket becomes available, It may not be your account but another customer who picks up them tickets.

If you select the priority option, Your balance will be reduced by the priority pricing for that game and you will receive 1 hour of priority running.

What does this mean?

When an account chooses the priority option, It will run your account 10x more than any other account, This means an increased chance for receiving a ticket.

When selecting ticket numbers such as 2, 3 or 4 you may define how you wish to search for them, It may take longer to get 4 seats together, However if you define a 4 pack as 2+2 where they may not be next to each other, This may be achieved quicker. Same applied for 3+1 or 1+1+1+1 etc.

Although sale of this product isn't officially open and this thread is to act as a placeholder and to give information on the product before launch, Please feel free to ask questions, Register your interest for the soon to be released tool and to pre-purchase your licence and time packages.

I've not been so active due to personal issues, are you still able to do this or is it now dead in the water?

novapro - March 29, 2025, 9:03 pm

Still available? contact me

JoelFootie - September 18, 2025, 4:59 pm

If this is still available can you message me?

Firepox - October 2, 2025, 12:02 pm

Anybody ever get the refund? I've been waiting/asking for months and I'm just getting blanked now.
