Youv'e literally made most of your posts in the 'Octoberfest pumpkin' thread. There's no site-wide activity, nah, just posts in a thread that doesn't benefit anyone, doesn't teach knowledge or how to hack into my ex' snapchat!! But an award is an award nevertheless.

Whenever there is an event like this, the lounge activity shoots up real quick. It's easy to lose yourself with all of the conversations being had.

This, also having conversations in the Lounge, and the SF's been a great portion of posts. I don't recommend going for the award in 48hrs, but I lost myself in posting and thought why not get it over with.

To be fair I've only gone after the weak ones which anyone will nuke with ease and you don't want holding you down ?

As for gold eggs, just 1. They're a 0.2% drop chance so even when posting a ton, it's not expected to get them much. You're lucky if you get any honestly. People have gone thousands of posts without any.

Glad I had the golden egg early when the eggs where just enabled, had the whole set expect the purple one in like 15/20 postcount.

After I've hatched them all I've gotten like 4 more purples after that, good season so far.

Agreed. Really glad I got a gold day 1 as well. Not expecting to get another as again the drop chance is quite low, but also like you mentioned, amethysts have been coming in nicely. Some blues too. Greens and reds are trash so I don't care about those. I just hatch them and kill off the HUM I get from them. Waste of a slot otherwise lol.

BCAA is what I used to take, but the current pre-workout I have has already added BCAA's in them so I don't take them separate. Yeah I drink 2 shakes a day with around 50g of protein, with 4 meals combined with another 150 grams of protein, I'm sitting on like 200g a day. Hahaha, in our family, my parents had nine children, and they did a good job raising us. However, I suppose life in the past was simpler compared to this complex era where we contend with high-cost commodities.

The one thing I'll say is I do wish I could choose to just delete the greens/reds for the sake of not wasting moves/bytes on hatching them. I'm just going to kill them off anyway since they're trash. I guess I COULD get a freagle and with decent stats to make worth keeping, but meh. It's unlikely.

Yeah but it's like trying to find a needle in a haystack looking for a freagle with decent stats, it's just a waste of bytes and moves most of the time.

I'm glad I ended up enjoying slayer as much as I did. It's weird. It was dead ass I think my lowest skill back in the OG days. It was maybe 40-50 and mind you I had a handful of 99s too. The majority of that slayer XP was prob from quests, lamps, and just a tad of actually doing slayer. I guess it for whatever reason didn't click for me back then. Since returning though, it lowkey is one of my favs.

Honestly, call me crazy, it might be my favorite ?

There are a few awards you can get with HUM.

The first one is 50 Hackuman kills.
The second one killing your hum when it's level 100.

It would require a lot of bytes as investment to hatch eggs and then kill 50.

Could you also link me to Bytes gambling or lottery? I heard about it here and I might try my luck to increase bytes and then try this HUM award.

Most achievers play HMU so we just need new content threads, they will be on to get that activity on bytes best time to get thread post & replies. Just vibe out in the lounge you will see the same individuals replying.

It's the bytes that matter when it comes to HMU. You have to have bytes starting then keep acquiring & it cost more to play.

46% right now, almost 50% ! I can expect to get the award before the October 20th, same for the Lounge Head

I like the idea about adding 100 post every year

Here is my bets for the next colors :

2024 > Green (as it's an usual color)

2025 > Red (we do not have that much read colors)

2026 > Black (with orange eyes, damn would be gorgeous AF)

2027 > Silver or White

2028 > Gold

2029 > Rainbow because we are overwhelmed by all of these LGBTQ+ stuff and woke people will control the world by 2030

I believe it was end of 2020, start of 2021 I began going fairly hard on the game. It was definitely months that it took to get to 50 and that was with me being pretty damn on top of playing consistently too, definitely much more than the average person ever would as well. Obviously since then I've taken breaks, but I started up again just recently as I noticed I was close to 85. Once I hit that I'll probably stop again until I for some reason get an itch to push for 90 for instance.

Hell no, you know how I feel about that ?

HUM doesn't need any of that pay to win nonsense again. It would be nice if you could do SOMETHING with the eggs if you didn't want to bother with HUM though. One idea someone mentioned was selling them or converting them in the Hack Game for in game cash. Though with the state of that game, it would be kind of whatever. Maybe if Omni added a way to sell the eggs to Stanley or whatever, into thin air essentially, and for a baseline amount of bytes that isn't anything crazy. At least you can get something then.

True, but you also have to keep in mind that was during exploited bytes days so these guys with all of them had no problem throwing fat amounts given it literally cost them nothing ?

As soon as that was a thing of the past, lottos took a fat hit and golds were only getting a fraction of what they were prior. Still, even today like I said, they'd get a respectable amount I think.

It's not fraud or carding, they use they Turkey VCC method. I got the upgrade on my personal account for like 3-4 months now and I never had an issue.

Not sure what people have not really paid attention but a lot of the awards you can also purchase from OMNI in package deals and other stuff. Other times when you purchase awards you get bonus with them like GA. and other times he just gifts you some. Others got them when the award resell market was open.

The problems has the answers. I paid for the book to prep for the exam.
I also bought another book that has previous exam questions with answers.
I then have practice questions with correct answers.

Once, I get my license I can then open up my 4th business which would be an accounting and taxation firm.

I already paid for the exam and bought all the books. I have to take 3 exams total.
All are in testing centers where I sit at a computer and have cameras recording me.

No not 600 threads but more like 4-5 that where extremely active, hence the shout-out to the users on the first post they made it easy for me to get that many posts in with constant conversations and notifications.

Without them it wouldn't be possible to get that many posts in.

As stupid as it sounds, it's really hard to wash our cars at our home because we park higher than where the house is, so water can run down and cause a problem. I'm gonna spot wash it tomorrow morning though as we'll have some clean rain so I can let it wash without leaving soap marks at

I usually use a place where the guys run over and do it for you, it's about £8 for my car and they do a good job. Hate the machine ones, I saw a car that had gone through one where the aerial of the previous car got caught in the brushes, and it scratched the paintwork on the driver's side so bad, it was ridiculous.

The 12k post award is certainly hard and will take ages. But other awards certainly seem doable.

The pumpkin award has certainly helped me with the lounge head award. I'm at 60% for the lounge head and 91% for the pumpkin award. Slowly but surely getting there.

It's also a mindset thing. You cannot focus on negative things too much or it'll destroy you inside out.

Got a late night snack, laying in the chair, listening to some banger music, while doing some work. How's the current weather in your city/country? It's extremely cold and rainy here.

It's actually been pretty nice lately. Not too hot and not too cold, with a nice warm swell during the afternoons. Can't complain there. Wbu?

Also what's your go-to late night snack?
