an ANDROID HVNC Rat for $250/mo is absolutely ridiculous. If the tool worked properly, android nets are usually 2-10k+/mo to rent let alone pay for one to be coded. (not saying it doesn't just am skeptical due to price, makes project seem unrealistic, along with how many accounts with only 1-2 or 5-20 posts were made, almost as if  I would dare say.) If not hosting files yourself, make sure to keep close eyes on your bots just to be safe.

Labradoedel - March 6, 2024, 10:30 am

Hello,

I'm wondering if you can select a certain window or application name to record from, when using the autoclicking – Record user Touches feature named on your website. And how is the pattern it recorded saved? Is it possible to record pincodes from certain applications with this?

And if not, is there a way around some applications that do not permit screen recording? I want to use this to steal from crypto applications that don't allow screenshots, and I am wondering if this tool makes it easy to remember the pincode is uses.

I hope you understand my questions. I seriously consider purchasing.

Thank you,
Labradoedel

Do you plan a "permission bypass" feature at install or is it already implemented? Quite unuseable for a common user getting him installing the app and granting all the permissions the app wants when activating showed in the video.

can anyone recommend a rat that's suitable for windows (.net)

Hackers - March 25, 2024, 6:16 am

OP, just want to confirm the following which I think is true from your product videos:

- 1) You need to already have physical access to the phone to install this, or another way of accessing the phone digitally.
- 2) You need to install the app with access to the phone still in place so you can approve the install & setup permissions.
- 3) This is for parental controls / monitoring of devices you have physical access to and won't work if you can't access the phone already or if the phone owner isn't following your instructions to assist with the install.

Can you please confirm if all of the above is true? I am interested in your product and want to make sure I know what I would be buying.

if you have any question full free to ask me.

How is this any different from Metasploit and msfvenom?

I only ask because it sounds an awful lot like its just injecting the apk with a payload, and then having it connect back to a meterpreter reverse shell after the victim installs it.

Im not being rude, just genuinely curious.

Is Google protection detected? How long does it live on the phone after it is installed?

no_KVC_465 - April 18, 2024, 11:12 am

Hello. I bought a vip package from you for a month. You're ignoring my telegram messages.

How can we resolve the issue that Google protection sees the file as malicious and how can this be circumvented?

Unfortunately, I cannot write in private messages due to insufficient rights.

ScreamCorp - May 10, 2024, 2:26 pm
