Hello,

This is my first time posing on here, I am new to hacking.

I want to be able to test out my skills.

How would I hack a samba share and gain access admin on the share.

When I open the server, I sign in Anonymously and can see all the shares active on that server. I can access some shares without authentication but there are a few that peak my interest. I want to be able to access them without making them know they are compromised.

How would I do this?

Typical method would be to sniff NTLM messages of users attempting to authenticate to the server.
