Thread: Do you have tattoos?

nextmark - October 3, 2023, 10:43 am

I have some tattoos on my arms. I want new tattoos on my legs.

DemonAsylum - October 3, 2023, 10:46 am

None atm, but I'm not against the idea of getting at least one in the future. Just has to be something I consider worth it and that I'm as confident as I can be that I won't regret however long down the road lol.

Komodo - October 3, 2023, 10:47 am

I'm glad I didn't get some of the earlier ones I considered because they ended up not being something I would care about much in the future.

I'm young and stupid and got tattoo of my ex girlfriend. Normally I think more would it be good or not but I was too drunk to think about this one. So I kind of understand you :D. It is not a name its image of something so nobody knows what is the real meaning of the tattoo and I can live with it, it does not bother me.

I've considered to tattoo my whole body, but no tattoos that would be seen with long sleeve shirts. But lately I'm not that sure about the idea that tattooing whole body would be that nice.

(Oct 3, 2023 10:51 AM)Focus Broken Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Ouch. I guess if you have a lot of tattoos then it's not a big deal, but if it's your only one that's especially awkward.

I have 22 tattoos and it's located on my shoulder so nobody sees it and others just can't connect it to my ex, and none of my friends haven't figured out what the idea of the tattoo is. It is skull with broken hearts and coffin next to it and some dollar signs XD

Would be a hell of an undertaking getting your whole body done and a big decision as well of course. I guess it would likely cost a fuck ton of money too lmao. That's obviously the lesser of anything to consider though. Even if I WANTED to get anywhere near that much tattoo work done, I wouldn't have a damn clue what to get done.

Yeah it cost too much but I found good tattooer who is cheap. First time I was in shock when I needed to pay for her and she said 60€ per hour, I was "WTF how you do this cheap tattoos and you are best tattoo artist who I know?!"

I have that problem that I don't know anymore what I should take next. I basically have all traumas already on my body XD and of course positive things too. I'm not good opening up my feelings so I just tattoo those on my body. Kind of "I draw all my secrets on my skin" type of shit.

Lucky you. Assuming they're skilled than having them be on the generally cheaper side is a big W considering how high pricing for tattoos or sessions for them can get, especially larger ones too. And yeah I'm not surprised to hear you have that problem of not knowing what you'd get next haha. As for your reasoning behind all you have, I feel like that's fairly common for a lot of people that get tattoos and all the more so those with a lot of them.

Yes I'm lucky I have been on artist who was expensive and not even did that good work. Also I have kind of addicted to the pain what comes when you are tattooed.

I bet there are a lot of people out there that have gone to get there first tattoo for instance, paid a good chunk of change for it, but then got mediocre work while not knowing any better and maybe even thinking it was solid work since again they just don't know any better. That's actually something I'd be worried about honestly lol. I'd have to go somewhere that I had a recommendation from someone I could trust on the subject.

Yeah that's exactly that type of shit I'm talking about and also reminds to add in the age factor. Obviously if you're younger or for most people anyway, that will come into play a lot too in terms of being able to get swindled or thinking someone's work is better than it really is compared to what could be gotten elsewhere.

Yeah it's funny when you're young and you get told be whatever adults that you don't know something well enough, will regret something, etc and you're SO confident they don't know jack and you know what you want. I should list some tattoos to confuse a future investigation. I love tattoos, I have SLEEVES! BIO MECHANICAL ONES. Only kidding my skin is virgin as can be. My rule of thumb is everytime I want a tattoo I have to wait 5 years to see if I really want it.

I don't, though not because I'm opposed to them at all. I've wanted to get one or two over the years, and have had ideas. But then I end up not following through, which usually turns out for the best as I end up dismissing that last idea in the end. I'm not non-committal in general, but I have been with tattoos, so I think I'll just err on the side of not doing it, lol.

I was at my sister's and we have been drinking and telling stories when I saw my niece, who was a hobby tattooist but very good, making herself a tattoo of Blackpool on her hand.

In my drunken state I asked if she could ink the Gemini star sign in my upper arm.

And she could.

Some of my tattoos have meaning, but not all of them do. Like you said, ink isn't for everyone and there isn't always a need to have a reason behind it

I can literally hear and feel the buzzing in my brain. I have to be patient though and wait until after the new year ?. My artist is posting so much good art ?

Yes I have some tattoos on my arm, will I be getting anymore? nope.

Laughing Man - October 4, 2023, 11:48 am

I have 5.

Joker on my left arm (Killing Joke joker, with a statement on it. "Some may never live, but the crazy never die." My homage to my mental disorder of Bipolar.

Tri-force with a half filled 8-bit heart on my right arm. (Tri-force represents all the values and honor I respect as my favorite games as a kid, half filled heart because I died for 1 minute and 12 seconds at 18 from an auto accident.)

Mei from overwatch done in pinup. On my right bicep (My wife's father has a pinup of his wife and I wanted to do the same for my spouse and my wife is smart and beautiful just like Mei plus I only played Mei.)

Motorcycle Shifting Pattern 1-N-2-3-4-5-6 and a car tire tread going from green to red on my left leg. (I love riding and it's when I feel most connected with the world around me, the tire because I love racing and building cars.)

The Magic of the Gathering land symbols on my right leg. (MTG was a huge part of my childhood and my favorite card game.)

Planned (My dead fathers signature on the top of my right foot and my Mother's on the top of my left foot. Think of my parents signing their painting/artwork as an artist would. I'm their gift to the world.)

Nissan skyline is absolutely great car and with that color?

I'll guess you like japanise cars.

What comes to the bikes I want Hoda CBR for next summer!

Eran - October 4, 2023, 1:18 pm

No but I'll definitely get at least one before the summer.

I don't have any tattoos.

SRT - October 7, 2023, 9:23 pm

Yes, i have a full leg sleeve. Got it done from overseas, it hurt so bad especially when healing!

Alpha Geek - October 16, 2023, 4:23 am

I have 1 tattoo and it's literally of my Avatar photo. I want more tattoos, representing myself or things things I love in life in some way or another (:

One that I really want is a zombie bite tattoo on my front left collar bone. I want it to be so realistic looking that it literally looks like someone took a bite out of me.

toterkerl - October 16, 2023, 4:25 am

Yes, just one. A large tribal design near my shoulders and upper back.

I have one tattoo on right leg, it hurt the most of all my tattoos.

What I have heard leg tattoos are most painfull

Night Storm - October 16, 2023, 11:46 am

I got one on my left chest and one on the side of Neck. :)

I am planning to get another on my fingers, next year.

silverfordays - October 16, 2023, 2:28 pm

I don't but planning to get one as well. One on the forearm would look cool in my opinion
