My dude, you're asking for $80k and have 0 completed contracts on HF. Middlemen should definitely be used and a giant abundance of caution for this sort of deal. Absolutely nothing personal, it's just a massive deal with no prior history here.

Sounds like something out of my ballpark for sure but this was interesting to read, I wish you luck with this endeavor.

I have no idea what you're selling. LOL.

Looks like its hooked up to some compromised password list database. Users pay a subscription to use the search function, searching emails/username to see if there is a password listed for it.

Just my guess.

Would you be willing to lower it to $50,000?

SIM-5438384 - October 22, 2023, 4:06 pm

How much did you pay for the DB's.. ? I think your valuation is a bit high.

Also, what payment method does this service accept (what is the revenue source)?

lambo293 - October 22, 2023, 6:37 pm

googled the name - interesting stuff it seems

Where is the DB from? there are other services that sell for one hand only, and even provide fingerprint and cookies.

if i understand well, your service is selling the same lines for everyone, and those line can be years old, burned, used and reused? i assume that because i see you talking nowhere about replenishing the DB after buying the project.

User are better buying a cloud subscription with daily/weekly updates and use a tool like Paranoid, at least it's gonna be fresh and fingerprints and cookies will be available if needed. i can't understand how this service will attract any customer...

Dear All,

We wish to clarify that we are offering for sale a stable commercial project with a consistent monthly income of approximately $10,000. Over the past six months, our project has generated a total revenue of around $61,000.

The price of the project is negotiable. For more detailed information, kindly reach out to us directly on Telegram.

First and foremost, we uphold complete transparency with the prospective project owner. All relevant statistics will be shared with a trusted guarantor. To be clear, we do not require any upfront payments and we will not conduct a peer-to-peer sale. Our transactions are exclusively handled through a guarantor with an outstanding reputation across all forums and similar boards.

The majority of our sales stem from subscriptions via our bot, which integrates two payment systems: CrystalPay and CryptoMus. To accommodate a wider audience, we also accept direct payments. It's worth noting that approximately 95% of our customers opt for cryptocurrency for their subscription payments.

We have ensured a pristine legal standing, supported by our comprehensive Terms of Service (TOS) and Privacy Policy, which can be reviewed at the following links:

<https://telegra.ph/U...lzovaniya-07-14>

<https://telegra.ph/P...alnosti-07-14-6>

At our core, we provide access to publicly leaked data. It's vital to emphasize that users are only allowed to search for their personal data through our bot. Any unlawful activities initiated by users are solely their responsibility. Analogously, consider a gun store in the USA: while it legally retails firearms, any illegal actions committed using those firearms are the responsibility of the individual, not the store.

Our user base spans globally, with 35-50% located in Europe, the US, and Asia. A significant fraction originates from the CIS region, mainly Russia and Ukraine. We've established a strong presence on renowned CIS forums such as Zelenka (previously LolzTeam) and BHF, investing between $4,000 to $4,500 in advertising on these platforms.

Additionally, as a gesture of goodwill, we will transfer the ownership of the project "mottlesmm" (mottlesmm.com) to you. All associated forum accounts and threads will be transferred in accordance with the specific rules of each board.

We're devoted to continuous improvement. If the new owner desires additional features, we stand ready to implement them without additional charges. Transitioning to a website or incorporating new functionalities is well within our capability.

Our pricing strategy is based on the SaaS model, factoring in various parameters. We operate transparently and are eager to furnish details regarding our revenues and statistics to verify their genuineness with any deal guarantor.

Should you have further questions, please do not hesitate to reach out.
