Thread: Hackforums has been an awesome community/ My honest opinion

HostTeraByte - October 29, 2023, 11:10 pm

I have been a part of the Hackforums community for nearly a month now, and I can honestly say that it feels like a home away from home for me. The warmth and love I have received from the members here are unparalleled. Whenever I faced difficulties or had trouble understanding complex topics, the community members stepped forward and graciously helped me find solutions. Their knowledge and talent are undeniably impressive.

Being a part of this community has not only provided me with valuable assistance, but it has also allowed me to engage with like-minded individuals who share my passion for AI, programming, web development and related subjects. The discussions and interactions I have had in this community have been intellectually stimulating and fostered my own personal growth.

What sets Hackforums apart is the genuine care and willingness of its members to support one another. I experienced this well many times just within the month. Whether you are a novice seeking guidance or a seasoned programmer/coder/developer looking for advanced insights, there is always someone here ready to lend a hand. It's incredible to witness the collaboration and camaraderie that exists within this community.

In conclusion, the Hackforums is an exceptional gathering of talented individuals who are willing to go the extra mile to help and support each others. It truly feels like a second home to me, and I am grateful to have found such a fantastic community browsing and lurking thought the bins of DuckoGo.

True, no other forum really compares or has anything going on. Keep on grinding.

Pancake Boat - October 29, 2023, 11:30 pm

Hackforums indeed is a special place!

Except you! Although, I never wanted to add you to this post which could bring you more attention but ofcourse you came in for a self service. Welcome and good luck with your browser! And have a nice day my friend -_- .

In the past one month, I have been part of a cracking forum which had AI topics in them, a meta forum and this forum. Meta's were nice but they were to be frank just business minded, truly into just business, cracking one had a lot of potential Scammers lurking around and defrauded me of $50 saying he would bring me 2.0 AI accounts so I stopped engaging there often, and finally this forum, it has given me good vibes on my work and members had shown interest into my passion, therefore just like McDonald's I'm loving it!

Although I'm not really active and have only been now because of this purple bumpkin, I must say that we shared the same sentiment.

I wouldn't be able to achieve 90% progress on the Octoberfest Pumpkin Award if no one interacted with me.

So glad that you're having fun and I hope it continues.

If you don't mind me asking, what brought you to this forum?

I'm designing an AI platform. I got everything figured out but these AI deepfakes been eating out my mind on how to get these done on a web UI based platform without using a GPU server. I got the basic idea figured out by a user here and rest I'm doing through some tweaking and modifications to the source.

Wow found something called egg here. Nice day!

That sounds super interesting, man. I wish you the best of luck with it!

You should share progress as you go somewhere on this forum. (without sharing too much ?)

I agree that everyone here is fantastic. I've already met knowledgeable people in their respective fields, and I'd love to learn more from them.

Best regards,

Glad you are enjoying your stay.

You will always be able to find someone as equally if not more passionate as you are about pretty much any topic.

Always remember, to remain cautious when conducting transactions-- never let comfortability with HF misguide you from properly using contracts/MM!
