Thread: Free Ebook: The Ultimate Guide to Online Privacy and Doxxing

Doysxys - November 1, 2023, 2:25 pm

Hey everyone!

I'm relatively new to this platform, as you can see from my profile. Over the past few days, I've been checking out this website, and I have to say, it's been pretty amazing! There are tons of resources, and the community is full of friendly and helpful people, whether you're new or experienced.

I've also been asking questions and appreciate how everyone treats each other respectfully. On another note, I've had an ebook on my pc for a while. I can't remember how I found it, but it covers different ways to stay private online and protect yourself from doxxing, as well as what doxxing is all about. Here's what's in the ebook:

1. Introduction to Anonymity
2. Doxing Yourself
3. Removing Personal Info from Searches
4. Dealing with Social Media
5. Handling Doxxing
6. Simulating a Dox
7. Clearing Google Cache
8. Helpful Tips
9. Introduction to Doxing
10. What Is Doxing
11. Doxing Templates
12. Using the Target's Email
13. Using the Target's Name
14. Using the Target's Phone Number
15. Using the Target's Area Code
16. Using the Target's Zip Code
17. Using the Target's Address
18. Using the Target's Skype
19. Using the Target's Facebook
20. Using IP Loggers
21. Using the Target's IP
22. ISP Doxing
23. Using the Target's Images
24. Using the Target's Alias
25. Using the Target's Website
26. Using Google Search
27. Getting the Target's SSN
28. Getting the Target's Credit Report
29. Getting the Target's Ancestry
30. Getting Pictures of the Target's House
31. Getting Info on the Target's House
32. Finding Databases for Doxing
33. Using Those Databases
34. Cracking Database Hashes

- 35. Next Steps After a Dox
- 36. Where to Share Doxes
- 37. Closing Thoughts

I think this ebook is really user-friendly and has a lot of useful information. Just a heads-up, some of the links in it might be out of date.

Feel free to check out the Mediafire link below. If it doesn't work, just let me know, and I'll do my best to provide an alternative way to access it.

Enjoy the read! ?
