Unfortunately i seem to have a broke boy imposter, Fortunately he asked the guy to start a contract which i denied and messaged the guy wondering why he started it.

Then i was given the discord of the scammer.

nerohackz IS NOT my discord.

I will not be undertaking ANY contracts or involving myself in ANY deals without ONSITE communications.

I will NEVER contact you directly on discord and request any service or payment without first communicating on site and accepting a contract.

To my knowledge fortunately no one has been scammed yet and i managed to save one from being scammed.

The accounts i suspect are responsible is from these 2:

They sent my profile to @SMMLast@ and he viewed it, Meaning he has to be one of them two. It's most likely the first as he was trying to scam nitro and most of his posts are discord related. [warn] it's almost impressive how far some people go to scam others, thanks for heads up.
