I can't think of one off the top of my head, but some of the worst ones are just autocorrect moments for me, for example sec into sex. What are some of your typo moments that just make you shrivel up and drift into the wind

Space• - November 16, 2023, 5:23 am omw automatically corrects to on my way! which makes me sound way more exciting than I am.

You can actually change that on an iPhone (I would assume any android/samsung as well)

Applied for a job once. The place had "shire" in the name and I typed "shite" on the covering letter I sent with it.

OH NO. I am so sorry, that's genuinely hilarious

That is absolutely true, but that would mean I lost the war against autocorrect; rather manually retype it myself than give up my proudness.

It's not good man, at best.. 80's and I mean at best. Coding has ruined me English spelling..

Or I ruined me English spelling by doing bad in school..

You can pick why ??

Wbu?

Pretty decent if you ask me.

I was determined in improving my speed, but life got busy again and I just couldn't care less hahah

Gotta keep up with your WPM score! I'm around 110 lately. I type pretty quickly with correct spelling and grammar most of the time.

One of my biggest mistakes was TRYING to call my girlfriend a "silly goose" and I accidentally said "silky goose". Now I have to hear it every day :)

That one still has me sweating, it's one of the most egregious examples of fuck autocorrect that still exist to this day

Meant to say ponce but said nonce instead. Google what Nonce means in the UK...

It was, Didn't get into trouble really. The guy's manager had a sense of humour.

I can't think of a specific one off the top of my head. However, I do know autocorrect has gotten me into some situations where I immediately have a mini panic attack for a second after reading what I just sent lol.

Completely wrong states autofilled on my resume without me really paying attention right out of high school and it looked like I lived everywhere in my life.

I applied to several places with this very resume until one of the people that finally interviewed me asked me about it. I fixed it quickly after that.

I had something oddly similar happen on an E-Sign form for work that filled in my current address as somewhere in Alaska??? We never found out if that was on me or an issue with what the boss had sent me

After the guy who gave me an interview showed me that I realized why I didn't get a single interview for all the applications I put out. Didn't even notice when I made it, I guess I was tired and wasn't paying attention.

It's one of the words I always struggle with, I usually have some sort of pneumonic device for words

I can't remember but necessary never sticks, and I can remember capnocytophaga canimorsus off the top of my head
