Thread: MW3 INTERSTELLAR CAMO UNLOCKED

oRequiem - November 18, 2023, 10:42 pm

I finally finished the Interstellar Camo Grind. The plan is to finish all of the Weapon Mastery Challenges for all 36 Weapons in Multiplayer and go for the Zombies Mastery Challenges + the Zombie Mastery Camo.

The hard part is over :)

Congrats! I'm currently on the camo grind myself. I finished assault rifles and am now doing submachine guns which is taking me a bit longer to do. Especially with the get how many kills after stunning/flashing an enemy challenge for some reason that one takes me a little bit to complete compared to others.

There are stun challenges as well for some priceless weapons.

Oh great lol. I've managed to complete all the gilded challenges for the submachine guns so at least done with the stun ones with those for now. SBMM assisted me because I would go balls to the wall trying to knock out the stun challenge in one game. Well, the first couple of matches didn't turn out so well but then finally I would get lobbies where I could easily stun a bunch of enemies and easily kill them.

Should see my SBMM. Literally just tournaments every single match no matter how much I die doing challenges lol.

I'd pass on that lol. I'd get very tired of the game if my SBMM was like that. At least if I die enough doing challenges I will get thrown into some easy lobbies eventually. I've seen insane clips on twitter of people reverse boosting to the point they get lobbies where they use an LMG and just spray into the spawn on Rust and the players are so bad they don't even leave.

Ayee, congratulations! I am currently working on this myself when I get time. I have about half of it complete. Can't wait.
