Thread: Windows always admin with temp admin rights?

arul12 - November 22, 2023, 2:28 pm

Hey is there a way to get always the admin shell from not admin user ? i can get temporary admin rights on my laptop and install what i want, even my own programs to Task scheduler to run as admin but the shell which they open don't get admin rights if i don't have it, but if I have the rights it opens an admin shell... has someone an idea how i always get an admin shell ?
btw english is not my native language sorry for that.

I'm not sure how to request admin from shell, but I suppose you could prompt Windows to ask for admin permission to open an executable. Im assuming you want it automatic though. Is this for personal use / on your own device?
