I can't tell if this is just a website showcase or if you're actually trying to offer a service. If it's the latter, then you'll need to do better as I already spotted no cookie management offerings and if you can't get that right, why would anybody bother to trust you with their data?

I quite like the design in light mode!

On dark mode, you have a few issues, however:

- Everything looks much more flat because of the lack of shadows.
- The text in the footer is also purple on a green background, making it very difficult to read.
- Your logo has black text, on a dark gray background. I'm not able to read it at all

In light mode, the button in your footer on hover, is the same colour as the background. I think this may be an error?

AS you only have your site in English, I'd probably remove the language selector in the footer also.
