You can sell sticker, t shirt, logo, etc design services, but there's so many free generators that it's hard to break into this market

You can drop ship items or do other whitelabel sales. You can even use printing APIs like Prodigy, or another service that allows you to print custom designs on clothing, accessories, and lots of gifts.

You can, over time, build up a network of videos, blog articles, and more but in my experience it can take a lot of work to make the first $100-1000 per month let alone $100 per day, so pushing out content these days is only worth it if you can do it at scale, have a good converting product on the site, and have some funds to explore and tweak ads, marketing efforts, etc

Apply for (experience maybe required) for remote office assistant, secretary, or sales at a reputable company. 100 good leads can convert let's say 1-5 or more customers depending on where they are in sales cycle, and for a well priced product, service, etc you can earn a lot on commission

OP, hit the marketplace. There's a reason it exists. It is a privilege to a certain extent...

I reported this thread for being out of marketplace.
How does this thread belong in the marketplace?

It's the Free Money Making Ebooks subforum, which he's giving out a free ebook...?

By reporting his post you limited his accounts permissions from accessing anything.

You also gave him -pop.

All that because he's attempting to give out an ebook. :/

Oh uh oh, I didn't realize that. I'm not sure how I found myself in this section. Will have to try to fix this.
