Since last month, this has been happening. I was in awe when I paid approximately $10.3 for $25 transfer.

Switch from BTC to BCH and for BTC I am using Blockchain with custom fees and transection acclerators to pay at lowest amount of fees.

btc fees are insane at the moment

i think its mostly because of high activity and transactions volume people are buying like crazy, higher demand, higher fees

Really high the other day I went to send like $9 worth of bitcoin and it nearly tried to charge me $9 to send it I had to convert my coins to LTC and send it that way for lower fees.

Damned this whole thing make me really think if BTC is worth,i mean if i send 50 and receive 27 because the fees took from me 23 that thing is ridiculous.Any better solutions out there?I use ledger at the time but wtf i will change if that is the problem!

See this always, you should change to other currency as ltc or doge, this will lower fees

The icing the on the cake for me was the day before yesterday, I needed to load like 8-10$ on one of my online shops and idk if any of you have used Muun before but before all this madness Muun charged hella low fees and transactions were quick . Anyways when I went to send that 8$ it said my fee was gonna be 23$ for the day speed that was pennys not to log ago . Smh what a time to be a miner aye. Needless to say I didn't make the tx. . Am curious tho why more people don't use tron and usdt trc20

I like the usdt's cause I get 1$ for 1$ value

But have been looking at some other crypto like dodge

Oh and PS for what it's worth cashapps still letting fees go as low as 8$ on smaller transactions and relatively less than most wallets out there Bitcoin is just unfeasible when it comes to payment options. LTC /XMR is better.

Nightmare - January 3, 2024, 11:45 am

LTC!! That is the salvation if you have high fees with any transaction BTC!Thank you all!
