Thread: Benevolence - Informational Thread - Invite Only

Trust - December 25, 2023, 8:43 am

LEADERS: Trust Neil prettykitty

Userbar:

Benevolence is for the altruistic. With a focus on community events, giveaways, helpful threads, and doing good in the community and beyond, we're always looking to give back and put others before ourselves. If you have a knack for assisting others, Benevolence is the group to realize your potential. We are invite only.

I do not care about your upgrade status. I do not care about your popularity. I do not care about your awards. I do not care if we are the best of friends. I do not care who you are. I will be sending invites based on your actions and how you carry yourself in the community alone. We are not another social club for the top 1% of members. Feel free to post in this thread if you're interested in joining, but please do not express anything further than your interest.

Thank you and I hope you're looking forward to great things on the horizon. Invites will be sent when Omni completes the rebrand.

Thank you. Yes. Plans to change username color, add animated post stars, and possibly ability to +4 rep early next year.

Thanks for everyone's interest, kind words, and valid criticism. Recruiting will be severely slowed down, this thread will be closed, and I'm finding some time to do things again soon, so I'll start focusing on getting group things actually moving.
