$5 investment in 1000 youtube subscribers.

.10 payout per 1000 views.

create pattern/scripts based on patterns for cryptos.

automate recordings and pump out videos on top 50 cryptos.

youll be raking in views and money for sure!

For those of you who are interested what I used to do. I used to run an instagram account on the tech niche. I did organic growth and I used to promote cheap tech products until some Indian instagrams with millions of followers started commenting on my posts and basically it was very saturated with much larger competition

You can still do it now if you wanna make like 300$ a month for those of you who are young. I started to grow that insta page when I was in high school and posted everyday once in the morning and once in the evening and once I was at 30k followers I started to monetize it.
