Why do people still not understand that lotteries and numbers games are a scam to get poor people to give up more of their money for nothing. I notice we have these number houses in my area and people go there to waste all their money its pretty sad.

Because it's gambling. It's one of the oldest scams in history. People will gladly gamble with just the hope of a big jackpot. As humans we all have this weakness to an extent. I do for certain games. Although I won't invest in the lotto.

I'm glad I was taught at a young age to never gamble

\(Click to View\) I say this as I buy tickets for the bytes lotto

i dont get why someone would gamble real money thinking its a 50 50 chance of winning.most of the casinos are rigged. and the lotos the chance of you winning are so dim.

in philippines . almost every week has lotto winners. it was strange and unusual since it wasn't like that before.

poor people think they have a slight chance of winning those money but in reality it's just the government that gets them.

Easy fast money is what brings them to bet on lotto even the chance of winning is far from reality ?

It's just yet another tax on the poor. The SEC and other regulators won't let normal people buy private securities so gambling is one of the only "solutions" to making exponential money that regular people have.

Yeah, we have no real proof that anyone actually wins these lotto draws. The money probably just goes into the pockets of Oligarchs.

never2much - January 5, 2024, 12:18 pm

True, the lottery is just pushed as a way for people to 'get rich' instead of actually doing meaningful work
