[contract=tid]Start Contract[/contract]

EDIT: We are not a prop firm. We offer a service to pass the challenges so you can be a funded trader. We are willing to give out 2 vouch copies but let me explain this clearly...

We will pass ANY challenge for you that is on Nova trading using a method of HFT. We guarantee a pass for any challenge. We do not offer to pay for the challenge. Vouch copies will be done on a first come first serve basis.

I would also like to add we pass the first stage before taking your money. Once we have passed 50% of the challenge we then take our fee and pass the second stage that will make the account funded after filling out the companies KYC. If we were to fail the challenge for any reason the fee is 100% refundable, but with our custom EA we have never failed a challenge to date. The EA is not for sale.

With that B-rating, post history etc I doubt that anyone will buy anything and besides, sounds too good to be true which we all know what it usually means. I guess that there's no vouch copies for this either since it requires a starting capital. Or am I wrong?

My post history and this project is irrelevant, I use HF for many different projects and educational purposes. There are no vouch copies but we do not charge until 50% of the challenge has passed so you know we are not scamming. Once 50% has been passed we will finish the rest of the challenge. I will edit the OP to explain this.

Personally I'd be looking at giving away a vouch copy if I was you, Your new but your claiming huge profits, Even covering one trusted member who can vouch would lead to a huge increase in sales.

Vitaly - January 3, 2024, 1:57 pm

so your service is passing FTMO stage 1 for people?

what's the point in that, if someone can't pass stage 1, they will just lose in stage 2 and if you are so good why are you not just trading your own accounts?

Ok, we will pass 2 accounts for people. I will offer 2 vouches in OP.

No, we pass stage 1 before accepting payment, then we pass stage 2. Once passed people can make money if they know how to trade. We're not guaranteeing they make money once they are passed, we just offer them the opportunity to be a funded trader. We have passed plenty of accounts and now we are offering the service here. We offer proof and now I've even said we will do vouch copies. What's the issue here?

Hi there, I have some experience trading forex. What's your discord/telegram?
I'll take you up on your offer and post results immediately.

Well, posting history etc is relevant in the sense that scammers tend to drop in, just post some minor things, if even that and then they drop something "big". Best way to get sales is by actually proving that the service or product is real, that's where vouch copies come in. If there's any vouch copy available then I can take a look over the weekend and write a review for you.

Are you not aware of funded accounts? They're very common. OP isn't claiming to give us capital. He's offering to pass the challenge that the forex platforms require before giving users a funded account.

Thank you, as someone who claims they have 15 years trading experience yet doesn't know what prop firms are I can't imagine they are a successful trader.

Prop firms are difficult, they usually rely on the majority of people who want something for nothing but if you are a good trader they can be very helpful in getting started.

Feel free, start a challenge and send me the details. it must be from Nova trading or a prop firm that allows HFT but go ahead and I will pass it for you for free.

Your account seems quite new so unfortunately we cannot offer you a vouch copy as it would defeat the purpose of one. We are willing to pass any challenge for any reputable HF members.

Yes it still for sale. Head over to Nova trading, make an account, start whichever challenge you like and we will get you funded within 24 hours. You qualify for a free vouch copy as well. A vouch contract must be started as well.

I actually already have an FTMO challenge account that is already in profit. Could you pass that for me? I figure it doesnt make much of a difference which prop firm you use. Also i noticed your name is easyFTMO lol

It does make a difference. We can pass Nova in 24 hours max because it allows for HFT. However we can still pass FTMO no problem, it just takes a while longer but we are more than happy to help you get funded.

That would be wonderful. I'd have other people willing to purchase after this goes through! I will update thread with results, just added OP on telegram
