Thread: What is your favorite speech of all time?

Py_Dev - January 6, 2024, 3:57 am

When ever i need some motivation. I enjoy listening to great speeches given in our history of the world. My personal fav is winston s Churchill address to the UK during WWII. Gives me goosebumps everytime!

I don't really know any good speeches that I can remember off the top of my head. I'll definitely look into this and see what I find

This is a great speech, very powerful. Even if he is just "acting"

Do Ted Talks count? I really like the ones regarding mental health/health in general Easily the I am a champion speech. I listen to it before any interviews for promotions or a big task I'm about to tackle. One of the best speeches I've ever heard. Also love the Rocky Balboa speech.

Not a speech but this is one of my favorite quotes that has stuck with me for years.

"Work hard, be somebody, be something more than what you see in the mirror.
Let the world be your mirror, don't let them judge you, cause the mirror can't judge you.
You judge what you see in the mirror."

I never really look at/listen to speeches. But there is one that remember which was some army guy that said that making your bed in the morning was a good thing. It was seen as the first task of the day.

Before you feel this man should be put out of his misery, watch the entirety of the film and I'd be surprised if you didn't get a bead on his overall demeanor in his direction.

For me, this is one of the best, most powerful motivational, life-giving speeches there is.

thrutl - August 7, 2024, 11:57 am its not really a speech as much as an interview..

But there is a interview with bob marley that is pritty lit
