Spoofers has been updated.

Can you explain why it supposedly spoofs all of that, but only supports BattleEye? BattleEye HWID bans only affect drive serials.

Hello,

You are right. BattleEye, especially EFT currently only bans your drive serials.

However, people might often find other arguments, and, due to that, the choice was made to spoof not only drive serials. If BattleEye ever decides to ban more than just serials, our tool is ready and doesn't need additional updating. The spoofer has been tested very thoroughly and works perfectly.

The cleaner included within the spoofer is made especially and not to forget, optimized only for BattleEye games. Not EAC.
