Thread: What kind of tooth brush do you use?

Lil Buddy - January 8, 2024, 8:19 pm

i currently just use a basic $2 tooth brush but i think its time a upgrade. Does anyone know of any good rechargeable ones?

Thanks ?

I use a basic one, I've tried some of those high end ones and I don't like the way they make my teeth feel. I don't even bother buying a brand one, just some cheap generic with medium bristles.

For me I also use basic slim soft charcoal toothbrush ?

It seems you were the first one who get the golden egg for hum game, congrats brother ?

Electric all day.

It's all about technique but I guarantee 90% of yall have a huge buildup of plaque and other gunk.

Electric just makes it easier to get toothpaste in the hard to reach places.

Plus I know most of yall disgusting mofos don't floss so electric is better in that sense too.

electric, philips soniccare something something, I dont remember which one exactly we got it was on sale at the time.

PS Komodo:

atleast I also floss

I have an Oral B electric one. Combined with some charcoal toothpaste does the trick.

I got sensitive teeth so I choose one with very slim and soft bristles.

I switched to an electric toothbrush a couple of years ago and it was a game changer. Flossing + an electric toothbrush every day has made dentist visits so much better.

I dont care , iam not buying an expensive one , so any normal one would be good
