It's very very very cold here. Almost done with work tho so can't complain!

Despite going to bed early last night, I woke up in the middle of the night and it took me hours to fall back to sleep so now I'm so tired going into today.

DashPHP - January 10, 2024, 7:34 am

I scratched my Iphone and that bugged me out a bit loool

I went to bed late but slept through & woke up okay today.

That's annoying - I have to replace my screen, it gets wonky every day where 50% of the screen isn't responding to touch, but then it will randomly work for hours or a day without issues so it makes it not as urgent to get it fixed.

Yeah I feel the same way. It bugged me for a few minutes, but I realised crying over a scratch is pathetic. I instantly moved on.

Dark mode on the phone seems to be helping hiding the scratch, rest of the phone is still super HQ.

ah, so no functional problems then? Just annoyance? I get it - especially if it's a newer phone of yours.

Yeah - It's the iPhone 13 Pro Max which i just bought off my Dad yesterday lol.

tbh, the scratch is so thin (90% of it) and i'd just have to focus on it to really see it. I just did a random test and opened my common apps and used it for a few seconds... too bothered by it now. Just annoyed by how long the scratch it. Genuinely top to bottom lol.

Ah, yeah that would be disappointing haha.

My girl only has the 7 or 8 I think - We always buy a new iPhone on her birthday but this year might be the first year where her phone from last year is still working fully lol! We buy them off of Gazelle usually & she's super stoked even though she's like 5-6 models behind lol.

LOL thats jokes.. Pretty surprising actually. Does she not use social media a lot? I would imagine those phones be struggling with all those apps by now. xdd nah they do fine with all the apps - insta, snap, fb, youtube, netflix, etc. No problems at all to be honest.

Damn fair enough then.. I was starting to experience issues with my Iphone 12 lmao, such as fast battery drainage. Performance overall wasn't bad though I guess.

Ah, her battery isn't great but actual use of the apps is fine. It still lasts for hours of use though , but sometimes it'll die at 5-10% and then come back on perfectly fine hours later as if it never ran out of battery.

hahahaha yep, pretty much what I experienced.

I defo prefer the larger screen size though.

Defo whining after my dumb ahh picks in SB yest for sure

Hackers - January 16, 2024, 8:56 pm

It is Wednesday again - well, in 4m for me.

I'll be whining if it gets colder, which it will today.
