Thread: Best Electronics Brand?

samurai - January 11, 2024, 7:12 pm

In my personal opinion it is Casio.

They have been making electronic products since the 1950s. Casio is also the most reputable wristwatch brand aswell

They are very famous for making reliable, durable electronic products varying from calculators to Piano keyboards.

What are your opinions on for best Electronics brand?

I don't have a favorite as I think most of them are decent quality and I haven't really found a brand that's repeatedly failed me. Some say Samsung is the best, I'd probably agree.

Jamika - January 12, 2024, 4:26 am

If generally i will say samsung, but in mobile hawaii is my love

diiiaz - January 12, 2024, 4:42 am

Probably samsung. Really not a fan of their phones though. That's why I'm staying true to my love for the iPhone.

Undead - January 12, 2024, 4:44 am

Anything Japanese is generally reliable

Yanix - January 12, 2024, 5:09 am

As my Dad always told me that Japan made would always be the best one.

Do you prefer digital watches or regular? Do you have a certain style you like more?

I think it depends on what your doing.

most people would have a sturdy digital as a more of a beater watch, while automatic or mechanical are classier, but a little more prone to internal damage.

what do you like for style?

what do you like for utility /at work or whatever?

I have 1 smart watch, synced with my galaxy android phone but it can have its own phone line itself too.

I want to get 1 really strong one that has a non digital compass, possibly a thermometer, humidity sensor, time, and anything else that can be used in an outdoors adventure or survival environment.

I suggest getting a G-Shock outdoors model, G-shocks are truly unbreakable and models for outdoors can come with compasses, thermometer sensors and even altimeters or barometers.

I really do like Japanese products as well, but that doesn't extend to every single industry. However lately my favorite international companies are scattered around and not specifically from one country - obviously a lot of US stocks though.

The fact you think apple is the "Best" shows just how un-educated and fan boy you are. Nothing apple does is the best. IOS is just unix they took open source and closed it off. They are a joke in the open source space. They had samsung making there screens, and they stole several patents. Apple really isn't a true company if you compare it to samsung. That's why Apple needed samsung to make screens, etc. Apple just takes things others do and calls it there own.

As for me, I don't really have a favorite brand of electronics, but if I had to pick one I guess I'd say samsung or Nvidia.

In my experience, for me it is Sony.

Love the color and sound of my old TV.

That really depends. For work, I like to use my Pixel watch. That way I can take a quick glance at my wrist for notifications instead of taking my phone out of my pocket. If I'm out and about and wanting to look nice, I wear one of my regular watches. I have a Movado that my Dad gave me years ago that I wear on very nice occasions.

Hell yeah, Apple makes mid quality products, and they overprices them for the brand label, they intentionally have their own special parts and accessories so only apple can repair them, or make you buy a new device. And dont get me started on the quality PCs and laptops.

Also IOS has been a reskin of unix since they started making technology, THEY CANT EVEN MAKE THEIR OWN OPERATING SYSTEM!

Apple is a joke in any educated technology/electronics community.

In conclusion dont buy apple, its not worth it.

The Japanese did the best in terms of electronics imo but at the same time they're sex degenerates and they're wiping themselves out of existence.

agreed w/ this take overall. I don't have a good non-digital watch but if I did, I could see that

If I were to say one best electronics company, I guess I would have to go with Samsung. They've got their hands everywhere in the tech market in all sorts of price ranges, it's hard to deny their wild success. Hell, Samsung even makes the screens for iPhones.

My personal favorite would be Apple though. I love their product designs and the ecosystem.

Karl773 - January 30, 2024, 8:08 am

MarkGold - January 30, 2024, 9:25 am
