People need to start being more self sufficient. We are not preppers, but my husband and I garden, can and preserve and have for years. Our younger neighbors laugh saying we put in a lot of work for things we could buy in the store but they ooh and aah over our tomatoes, peppers and corn when we share a bumper crop.

Things are going to get worse before getting better with the One World philosophy.

being self-sufficient does nothing! Do you think he cares if we grow our own tomatoes? A top member of the CHINESE COMMUNIST PARTY owns a major stake of our country!
Really made me laugh lol

This has been happening in Australia and New Zealand. Chinese billionaires that never set a foot in those countries buying up the land to be landlords as an investment.
