Don't be lame. Thats an easy way to get your account banned.

yeah, the bots and Apex legends are getting pretty bad to the point where the game isn't even fun anymore

So I know you have to go to the Hong Kong servers, and you'll fall into this kind of lobby but I'd like to know how the guy does that Just play the game and actually get better. Can't imagine there is any actual genuine fun and rewarding feeling from boosting, cheating, or anything of that nature. I guess if someone is just doing it as a service they're being paid for than that's one thing although still lame, but either way you run the risk of getting banned anyway. People paying for anything like that are just as bad too.

We don't care about the level, we already have it, now we want to understand why it's happening in apex, it's someone who does it to make money quickly, so we want to understand the process or if there is the method for sale on the forums

I don't think you're going to get that kind of info or service on here.

HF has plenty to offer in terms of knowledge and services, but there isn't much for that in regards to gaming these days, more so the latter. Back in the day I'd say it was definitely a bigger part of the forum in terms of both categories, but certainly not such nowadays unfortunately.
