Thread: Terrible Thursday?

Hackers - January 18, 2024, 8:04 am

Has anything gone wrong today?

Nothing too bad has gone wrong today, but I woke up at 8am and knew I had to get up for the day (I start working remotely at 9), but was super slow to start. I was able to get it together before 9am, but for about 30 minutes I was dreading the day. I did some positive self-talk & manifesting about how I will have a great day, be productive, and accomplish things and mentally I was able to focus and have a very productive first 2 hours today.

If I have to pick anything "terrible" about today then I guess it's the cold outside - frigid in the East of USA!

I met a stranger off of marketplace to sell my Apple Studio display, that all went well.

Hoping for the rest of today to go well! :)

And hoping it is well for all of you too!

It's been a great Thursday so far, usually, they are pretty busy for me.

However, it's always a good Thursday when golf is on - The American Express tournament is on.
