F! What is going wrong or has gone wrong today on your Friday?

Nothing really has gone wrong so far, but I did wake up feeling iffy about the day. I'm better now after coffee, but didn't sleep great. I was up at around 3am and then again at 6am, but luckily fell back asleep each time and ended up waking at around 730 this morning.

If anything I guess the only bothersome "F this" moment will come at around 5:15pm when I will either end up working late and breaking my goal to leave at 530, or I'll leave at 530 and feel bad about something I could've finished off.

Try not to reply to this thread unless it is a Friday!

I think today is gonna go well. I open at work so it means I'm gonna be getting off work earlier than normal ?
