Thread: When they ask for verification.

When e whoring, do you draw on a paper and photoshop it to the verification picture? wouldn't that be extremely time consuming?

It would be more efficient to use a font that looks similar to hand writing would it not?

I wouldn't be able to photoshop in time before they got sceptical haha. Gotta be one fast photoshopper or slow guy?

It would be too time consuming if you're doing it for each new customer, eg. their name or whatever.

You can create 1 new verification per day, your username and today's date.

Doing a new verification for each customer would be too time consuming, eg. photoshopping his name - "Jack", your name, today's date, etc.
