I'm confused if you're either asking for something or trying to discuss a problem. Are you asking for someone to complete a bug bounty for you?

Sadly, this happens sometimes.

Some people are selfish and greedy and will use you and dump you.

I hope he will pay u ur share, let it be a lesson to work safer.

Interesting. Perhaps they're still looking over your report.

Take it up with hackerone if a listed company is hassling you. They will in fact look into remove them from the platform if they are abusing it.

I've never ran into issues with bounties on H1. Check if it's managed by H1 and they'll pursue if it goes on too long. You can even reply and "nudge" the company.

Perhaps you're just being impatient?
