Thread: Discover a Powerhouse of Resources

ThisDev - February 7, 2024, 9:01 pm

I wanted to share some awesome resources available on my website that you might find useful. Whether you're looking to enhance your online privacy, streamline your web browsing experience, or just have some fun, there's something here for everyone.

Currently, I'm juggling multiple projects simultaneously, which has slowed me down from releasing more exclusive(s). Working on five projects concurrently can be quite demanding, and as a result, progress on each one has been delayed. These are the ones that are currently out and about though!

Here are most of the resources:

? PocketProxy - Browse the Internet through a web proxy! Bypass school network restrictions or national restrictions and browse the web without limitations.

? PrivateBin - A minimalist pastebin where the server has zero knowledge of pasted data. Enjoy 256-bit AES encryption for added security.

> github: PrivateBin/PrivateBin

? YouTube Video Downloader - Need to save a video for later? Our downloader is here to help! Supports mp4 format only.

? URL Shortener - Shorten URLs for free and share them easily with friends and colleagues.

> github: YOURLS/YOURLS

? Search (LibreY) - Discover a privacy-respecting meta search engine that puts your data first.

> github: Ahwxorg/LibreY

? Self Destructing Notes - Share sensitive information with peace of mind. Notes disappear after being read once.

> github: AndrewPaglusch/FlashPaper

? JavaScript File Encryption/Decryption - Enjoy AES Encryption, all client-side! Your data stays private without traversing the internet.

? Domain DNS Lookup - Quickly access domain record information, including A, AAAA, and more.

? Tor Detector - Curious if websites can detect your TOR usage? Find out with this handy tool! (Hint: They can!)

? Quote Generator - Get inspired with motivational quotes to kickstart your day.

? TrueCrypt 7.1 - Access the untouched version with VirusTotal results for added peace of mind.
