Thread: [\[Ewhore\]](#) [\[Help\]](#) Wich payment method is the smoothest?

Bukibrate - February 9, 2024, 12:14 am

Hello!

I need to know wich payment method online is the smoothest and fastest with LEAST verification + registration?

Paysafecard is one way, Paypal another, but is there any BTC services available without that i need to verify with ID? and then i mean if there is any kind of "Direct payment" solution online where i for example just need to send a "payment" link, and the guy will pay easy and fast through my link without having to register an account for himself?

I really need help and would appreciate all replys to this thread :)

Ps. I live in northern europe

Best regards!

Depending on what countries you target, for US it would be CashApp and PayPal. Paysafecard is not popular in US.

You can send a payment link using Revolut but person will be able to see your name. And of course using Stripe but you'll have to find a workaround on how not to get banned.

PayPal and Cashapp are the most widely used.

Theoretically, there are ways to maximize your safety when using them. Some people create PP business accounts so they can use a different name. In the past, I saw some use Cashapp under a different name than their legal name. I'm not sure if this is currently possible.

Gift cards would be your last resort. You don't have to rely just on Amazon cards anymore. You can just ask for other cards that you can flip. In January, Amazon stopped allowing you to use your gift card balance to buy other gift cards. That was an easy way to get full value for gift cards.

Before I stopped, I did a few crypto sales but crypto isn't really a common payment method.

What you should do is look for other creators in your region and see what they accept as payment. You might be able to find a solution that you didn't think of by doing that.

If Paysafe is your best option, just target customers from countries that can easily pay with that. While the bulk of buyers are in the US and UK, there are horny men all over the world. Don't neglect them chasing American and British buyers.

Hey always wondered what about people in Canada.

Which kind of payment method would work best? (Don't want to use my PayPal with my info)

If I create a new account I'd be worried about it getting limited and verifying issues.
