Thread: Proper equipment to keep wildlife at bay.

I was wondering about the necessary precautions and equipment to keep wildlife such as deers, raccoons, and possibly bears away from your house and backyard.

I had just recently moved states and was wondering so I can prepare for wildlife encounters, So far I've been in this new city for 2 days it's pretty chill (Oregon btw) it's hella cold but the people are nice.

Most said there's deer here and there that pass through the neighborhood and all said I should re enforce the backyard fences.

Any tips/advice will be appreciated thanks ?

I knew about the piss thing but didn't know about the human hair, that's wild that would work... but it makes sense lol.
