Charlie Sheen - February 14, 2024, 10:53 pm

Date started: 2/20/2023

Date achieved: 2/13/2024

This award was the biggest grind of my life. I seriously played every single day, I never missed a day. It's so ingrained in my DNA now that I still keep loading the Hack Game page accidentally. I'm so glad that it's over now. 1 of 39 members on the forum to complete this mission. I'm putting this on every job resume from now on.

Komodo - February 14, 2024, 11:28 pm

I would rather stick my dick in a blender than a full year of playing hack game.

Congratulations, you're insane!

Bastille - February 14, 2024, 11:31 pm

Congratulations brother, not an easy one to get !

Who's the next one your chasing now ? :)

It's sooooo much effort.
grats.

Koyote - February 15, 2024, 2:14 am

Congrats man!! Was it the new combo of things that helped you sail home? I'm gonna get there eventually!

SoulZeh - February 15, 2024, 2:45 am

I asked Genuine how grindy it was and he said the same, did you just spam the small hack jobs and spam "hack into nasa" one?

Eran - February 15, 2024, 3:54 am

Congrats once again, I'm continuing my journey, looking to get it before summer.

Mooooookie - February 15, 2024, 1:09 pm

Almost a year.. wow, that's some dedication. Congratulations on finishing. I'm still struggling to check in daily, so not sure I would be able to knock that one out... But its definitely motivating. Maybe not so much to want to play the game, but to be dedicated to something and stay dedicated until reaching your goal.

Businessman and Hackuman 50 kills award are next up. 1 kill away from that one.

You predicted it correctly, you said I would get it by end of February back when I was saying I would get it in June.

It absolutely is. I still keep loading the page and then stopping myself lol.

Yeah it absolutely helped so much, I'd say my daily xp rates doubled, and on somedays tripled.

I did 16%, 23% and 30% jobs. I almost never did NASA (91% chance you're going to fail). The last 10 levels or so I started doing the missions also, everyone had said they were a waste of time but it actually helped me soo much.

(Feb 15, 2024 04:54 AM)Eran Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Congrats once again, I'm continuing my journey, looking to get it before summer.

Just do the hack jobs and missions. Load up on battery charges. Do 23% and 30%, sprinkle in the 16% jobs. Always kill your battery before you go to bed, never let that battery hit 100%. I feel like if it hits 100% you're wasting XP.

There are some people like Yanix that can add you to his daily check in reminder.

I'm actually added to one of those reminder lists, but for some reason I don't get the notifications, despite seeing my username in his list of tagged usernames.

You definitely should. I'm not too impressed by your 1 XP on there currently.

Charlie Sheen doesn't have that much dedication, nice try.

OT: Congratz, that award will take me a decade - minimum.

Yeh the Riddle challenge was something.. remember spending hours decrypting it.

Same. Was super bummed not to have gotten it as I had the right idea for what it was, but was just not able to put together the right name for the concept. I'm sure many others were right on the brink of getting it too. Big props to those that were ahead of the rest though.

He got us good. I'm sure we'll see another one some day, it got HF rattled.

I was hoping to have seen another by now. I thought it was supposed to be a yearly thing or that Omni was considering it anyway. I can see how it would be a lot easier said than done to set something good and worthwhile enough up though. Plus he's obviously plenty busy with tons of other HF and IRL stuff. Still, I hope to one day see another and maybe I'll be a winner of that one ?

Yes. Hiring medal of honor winners.

Do you have the grit to get through the hack game?

Do you have nerves of steel to click, click, click... error "you're clicking to fast", but determination to click once more?

If so...then you might be the person for...

BlackWidow1 - May 2, 2024, 5:23 pm

I should learn to play from you and get these awards, man.

The Joker - April 16, 2025, 8:57 am

1 year of regular logging in itself merits an award.

I would never be able to achieve something like that!

Nice work!
