Dark Harvest was very interesting and scary.

Evil Dead Rise was excellent.

They did a great job with Saw X.

There weren't a lot of good horror movies last year, the genre itself has gone downhill but then again there's only so many ideas you can come up with to scare someone.

Saw X was a positive surprise for me honestly.

They pumped out so many Saw movies, but Saw X was honestly very good imo

Evil Dead Rise is also a great horror movie! I second this list ?

I'm glad they took a break from doing the yearly Saw movies. They were overdoing it. Every Halloween another Saw movie. I think it hit a point where they weren't even launching in theaters anymore. That break is what every franchise needs to do. Did you ever see the newest Wrong Turn movie? It took a very interesting approach to the series relaunch.

The one from 2021? Or is there a more recent one? I THINK I watched the 2021 one, but I'm not sure. I could probably rewatch it if that's the one you mean

EDIT: I did enjoy all the Wrong Turn movies. I loved the gore!

Also, I recommend you "I spit on your grave" movies. Those were BADASS af

Yeah the 2021 version. I've seen the I spit on your grave movies, they were great but those uh scenes were a bit much. I have a difficult time watching movies with scenes like that. The ones with no consent.

Are these movies ranked in order from left to right? Some of those I avoided but I might give a shot. Like Thanksgiving. It kinda looked dull but I think I'll give it a watch now. Knock at the cabin was so messed up man. Renfield was great, Evil Dead Rise and Five nights at freddys also great.
